

Call for Consultants

Evaluation of Global Fund Investment in HIV, Tuberculosis, and Malaria Programs in Focused Countries

APMG Health is looking to expand our network of high-quality specialists for upcoming evaluations of HIV, tuberculosis and malaria programs funded by the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria, in over sixty countries throughout all regions.

APMG Health requires short-term consultants with expertise in the following areas:

- Evaluation of HIV, tuberculosis or malaria programs
- HIV prevention, care and treatment with key populations (people who inject drugs, MSM, sex workers, transgender individuals, prisoners)
- HIV prevention, care and treatment (testing, linkages to care, care and support)
- Comorbidities (TB and HIV)
- Laboratories (with specialty in HIV, tuberculosis or malaria)
- Tuberculosis prevention, care and treatment (case detection and diagnosis, engaging care providers, community TB care)
- Malaria prevention, care and treatment (vector control, chemoprevention, case detection, diagnostic testing, surveillance)
- Gender within HIV, tuberculosis or malaria programs
- Sustainability of HIV, tuberculosis or malaria programs
- Human rights within of HIV, tuberculosis or malaria programs
- Resilient & Sustainable Systems for Health (community responses and systems, RMNCAH & integrated service delivery, procurement and supply chain management, human resources for health, data systems and capacity, national disease strategy and governance, financial management and oversight)

Full working proficiency in English is essential. Working proficiency in French, Portuguese, Spanish, Russian, or other language highly desired.

Interested applicants are invited to send a CV to Focus@apmghealth.com. Please be sure to highlight relevant experience in your CV.

APMG Health, Inc. is a registered Benefit Corporation in Washington, DC.
518 Kennedy Street NW, Washington, DC 20011
www.apmghealth.com